ALBANIA ASKS
TO TALK OVER
PEACE PACTSCHARGES OF GREECE
DENIED IN BID TO JOIN U. N.

BY LARRY HAUCK

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—Col. Tuk Jakova, Albanian minister without portfolio, said tonight that his government was ready to negotiate treaties and establish diplomatic relations with the United Nations and Italy denied that his country was "not peace-loving" as charged by Greece in opposing Albania's entry into the United Nations.

Col. Jakova, who said he had been designated as Albania's representative in hearings by A. U. N. membership committee, contested all major charges offered by Ambassador Vassili Dendranis of Greece in a memorandum to the committee. These included provocation of border incidents and persecution of Greeks.

Commenting at a press conference on the action of the United States in reserving its position on the Russian-supported application because Albania had refused to recognize pre-war treaties with the U. S. he said:

"We are ready to reexamine treaties with the United States and make concessions accordingly."

Old Treaties Discarded

He explained that his government has refused to accept old pacts with any other government because they were signed in a time when Albania was considered a protectorate of Italy and many would have worked a hardship. He added that all treaties, including those with the U. S., were wiped out by government decree.

In regard to Greek claims on Northern Epirus (Southern Albania), listed in the memorandum and also put before the Paris peace conference, he declared:

"There is no Northern Epirus in Albania. Southern Albania has never been Greek or part of Greece."

Col. Jakova said there had been no official declaration that the government of Premier Enver Hoxha was Communist but he did say under questioning that the Communists were the largest single group in the front holding power.

Wreckage Of Lost
Plane Is Sighted
Near South Haven

Chicago, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Coast Guard said today the wreckage of a plane believed to have belonged to Lt. William Hood, missing since Sunday, had been found in Lake Michigan near St. Joseph, Mich.

Yesterday the Glenview Naval Air Station said "six or seven" planes had engaged in a day-long search of the southern Lake Michigan area without finding a trace of the private plane which Lieutenant Hood was flying to Benton Harbor, Mich.

Navy officials said Hood, a Marine Corps flier of Benton Harbor, had purchased the plane at a sale of surplus equipment. He had taken off from Quincy, Ill., Sunday for his home.

The first report to the Chicago operating base of the Coast Guard did not disclose if a body had been found.

Weather

(Reported by U. S. Weather Bureau)

LOWER MICHIGAN: Fair and somewhat warmer Wednesday. Thursday generally fair and warm.

UPPER MICHIGAN: Generally fair Wednesday and Thursday, but with scattered thundershowers in northwest portion Thursday. Somewhat warmer except little change in temperature near Lake Michigan.

Deadly Gas Leaks
Out At Kalamazoo
Mill, 15 Overcome

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 6 (AP)—Two persons remained in hospital today for treatment of effects of deadly chlorine gas fumes which escaped from a pipe between a tank car and the Bleaching Mill of the Kalamazoo Vegetable Parchment company plant at Suburban Parchment Monday night.

Another 13 persons were overcome by the fumes, nine were hospitalized and 12 families were evacuated from their lowland homes along the Kalamazoo river as a wind carried the gas toward their area.

Before reaching the Kalamazoo city limits, however, the fumes were dissipated.

Charles Peterson, head Bleaching Mill operator, discovered the gas leak when he heard a whistling sound and spread the alarm. Alfred Perlick, a mill superintendent, and Lester La Liberté, assistant superintendent, put on gas masks, entered the plant and shut off the fumes.

Rescued From Roof

Among the victims was 235-pound Kenneth Stratton, who went to the roof of a four-story building and had to be removed by three men. Thirteen-year-old Marilyn Noone rode her bicycle into the cloud, collapsed and was rescued by a fire department inhalator squad.

Ten-year-old William Youngs also was overcome and rescued by firemen after he returned to his home for his cat, which also was rescued.

Company officials said this was the first accident resulting from the use of chlorine in the processing of paper pulp. They said one wing of the building, filled with the chlorine fumes, would not be opened for a few days.

Quick action by J. H. Sinclair, employment manager of the mill, was credited with saving scores of persons from any ill effects of the gas.

Sinclair drove ahead of the cloud in his automobile, warning residents of the area. They took to the high ground on the river's east bank and most of them escaped the fumes. A few who were slow in moving received a mild touch of the gas.

SLAVIC NATIONS
LOSE AT PARISVote Procedure Brings
Bitter Debate; Byrnes
And Molotov Tangle

BY JOSEPH DYNAN

Paris, Wednesday, Aug. 7 (AP)—The western Allies won a clear-cut victory over the Slavic bloc today when the rules committee—after a head-on clash of the United States and Russia—decided that simple majority decisions of the peace conference would be required for the foreign ministers' council as recommendations. The vote was 14 to six.

During the bitter debate on the voting procedure issue, U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes charged that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was attempting to dictate to the peace conference.

In reply, Molotov labelled Byrnes' speech as "violent and perhaps belittling," denied the charge and declared that his delegation alone was defending the recent decisions of the big four foreign ministers.

Under a British amendment adopted by the committee there would be two types of peace conference recommendations—those backed by a simple majority and those supported by a two-thirds majority. Both classes would go before the foreign ministers' council which has the final word on the peace treaties with Italy, Finland, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

Eviction Is Faced
By 7,000 Detroiters

Detroit, Aug. 6 (AP)—Within four months, 7,000 Detroiters may be on the streets and homeless, Circuit Court Commissioner Frank Fitzgerald predicted today.

The situation results from the present practice, Fitzgerald said, of veterans buying homes and evicting the present occupants. When OPA first expired June 30, he explained, it gave a 30-day moratorium on pending evictions, but the day after the moratorium ended, OPA issued 2,000 certificates of possession to veterans who had bought homes.

HELD FOR VETERANS

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—The civilian production administration today ordered that henceforth new homes be held for sale to veterans for a period of 60 days, rather than 30 days as previously. The order applies to all dwellings built for sale under the veterans emergency housing program.

Dominican Citizens
Flee In Panic From Coast Earthquakes

Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic, Aug. 6 (AP)—For the third straight day earthquakes and tidal waves battered coastal towns of this Caribbean Republic today, causing many residents to flee in panic into forests in the interior. The known death toll reached 22.

The shocks which began Sunday caused 20 deaths in the adjoining communities of Bajío and Cabrera on Scotch Bay in the northeastern section of the country. Many persons were reported injured or missing in this region.

Food and clothing were dropped by government planes to the people who fled from Matanzas Sunday and took refuge in a nearby forest. In the north coast town of Puerto Plata many residents also fled in panic into forests. New shocks were reported at Puerto Plata and also at Los Llanos which suffered heavy damage.

Belated reports from Matanzas said the first shocks and tidal waves had destroyed 424 houses, many of which were toppled by an eight-foot wall of water.

Restored communications brought word that Villa Riva, Pimentel, Higüey and Villa Isabel, the center of a rice growing region, had been hard hit. The historic church at Higüey was damaged.

An examination disclosed that the west wall of the Ciudad Trujillo Cathedral, oldest in the Western Hemisphere, was cracked laterally.

MOTHER PLANES
GUIDE BOMBERSTwo B-17s Make 2,400
Mile Flight From
Hilo Pilotless

BY CHARLES H. MCMURTRY

Muroc, Calif., Aug. 6 (AP)—The army wrote another page in the rapidly unfolding history of remote control aviation today when two drone B-17 bombers landed at this desert air base from Hilo, Hawaii, in the longest completely unmanned flight to date.

The two four-engine ships made the 2,400-mile flight in approximately 15 hours. They were controlled by mother planes, flying from 200 feet to three miles distant from the pilotless craft.

There have been other multi-engine drone flights of an experimental nature, but army officers said in previous instances the remotely-controlled ships all carried safety pilots.

Four correspondents, including the writer, traveled in accompaniment. The operation was classed as top secret until all planes had landed safely at Muroc.

As it approached the California coast, one of the drones dropped a practice smoke bomb off Santa Rosa Island, involving opening the bomb bays, releasing the bomb, and closing them again, all by remote control.

The planes landed here at 10:51 and 11:09 a. m. Pacific Standard Time. (1:51 p. m. and 2:09 p. m. CDT) after leaving Lyman field, Hilo at 8 p. m. and 7:40 p. m. (PST), respectively. The flight was made at from 150 to 165 miles an hour at approximately 6,500 feet altitude.

New Plastic Auto
Assembly Plant To Be In Hollywood

Hollywood, Aug. 6 (AP)—Harold Darrin, automobile designer, said today that because of the labor situation, previous plans to assemble his new plastic bodied automobile in Grand Rapids, Mich., have been altered in favor of an assembly plant here.

He said parts will be made by the Hayes Manufacturing Co. in Grand Rapids and that the Continental Motor Co. will make the motors. The assembly plant is expected to turn out the cars at the rate of 25 a day. Tentative starting date was set for Dec. 8, with five-passenger convertibles first off the line. Later a larger car will be added, Darrin said.

Distillers Resume
Whisky Production

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—The agriculture department today gave distillers permission to resume the production of whisky and other distilled spirits.

Production was halted July 31 pending the determination of a new program for dividing limited supplies of grains among distillers.

Liquor-making has been restricted for many months because of the shortage of grains needed for food and livestock feed.

The department said that distillers as a whole will be permitted to make as much beverage alcohol in August as in June and July but that production by individual plants may be altered somewhat.

Truck Crops Suffer
From Lack Of Rain

Lansing, Aug. 6 (AP)—Michigan truck crops generally are suffering from the effects of the drought but there has been no damage from plant insects or diseases so far this season, the federal-state crop reporting service said today. Snap beans are suffering heavily from lack of moisture, the service said, and cantaloupes are looking "sick" as the result of the extended dry period.

HALF MILLION HOMES UP IN
HOUSING DRIVEGOAL OF PRE-FABS
LAGS; TROUBLES
ENUMERATED

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—Nearly 500,000 houses were started and 225,000 finished in the first half year of the housing drive, Wilson Wyatt announced today, but his report revealed a variety of housing troubles.

The national housing administrator called the results "encouraging" in view of the hurdles surmounted. There still is "strong likelihood," he said, of reaching the 1946 goal of 1,200,000 new dwellings.

These setbacks were recorded, however, in his second monthly progress report, covering six months of the homes-for-veterans program.

1. The number of new home starts dropped in June to 92,500, or 12,000 under May instead of increasing as expected.

2. Factory-built housing has lagged so far behind expectations that the 1946 goal has been cut from 250,000 pre-fabs to 100,000.

3. Building time has lengthened from a normal period of three to four months per house to six or seven months, because of slow deliveries of materials.

More Permanent Dwellings

Greater reliance will be placed on traditional methods of building, Wyatt reported, since it appears that mass production of prefabricated homes "cannot be expected until 1947."

Accordingly, the target for private, permanent homes of the traditional types has been boosted from 650,000 new starts this year to 738,000, because of the "gratifying success" so far in getting such homes under construction.

Chances are "very good," Wyatt told a news conference, that the reconstruction finance corporation will grant loans to finance mass production of steel and aluminum

GRISLY LONDON
MURDER SOLVEDHandsome RAF Veteran
Held For Mutilating
Beautiful Woman

BY ED CREAUGH

London, Aug. 6 (AP)—Neville George Cleveley Heath was accused today of stripping, robbing, obscenely mutilating and killing beautiful Doreen Marshall in a fashionable south coast pleasure grove last July 4.

The grisly indictment was presented after the handsome, 29-year-old RAF veteran stoically pleaded innocent to murdering Margery Gardner, 33-year-old film extra, in the same "horrible sadistic fashion"—and lashing and biting her body in addition—less than two weeks earlier in a London hotel room.

Prosecutor H. A. K. Morgan told the tragic story of Miss Marshall, 21, a former member of the Women's Royal Naval Reserve, from a "casual meeting" with her slayer at fashionable Bournemouth until the finding of her nude, blood-covered body.

"The body was found naked, with the exception of one shoe," was the prosecutor said. "She had been struck on the head and she had been violently assaulted. Her ribs had been broken and one of them had punctured a lung."

"X X X" she had been dragged along the ground while alive and while naked and her throat had been cut twice.

"One cut was not serious but the other was a dreadful gash which had severed the carotid artery and had killed her."

"After death her body had been appallingly mutilated. The upper part of the body was cut and slashed and her abdomen had been slit. There were numerous gashes and also horrible sadistic injuries which I shall not describe to you."

Furlough Pay Gives
Michigan Veterans
$36,000,000 Bonds

Lansing, Aug. 6 (AP)—Michigan veterans will receive more than $36,000,000 in U. S. Government bonds as a result of congress' decision to reimburse former servicemen for their failure to receive terminal leave pay, Col. Philip C. Pack, director of the state office of Veterans Affairs, said today.

He said local veterans' counselors were prepared to assist the ex-GIs in making claims for the terminal leave payments.

Details Bared
In Butchery Of Suzanne Degnan

Chicago, Aug. 6 (AP)—William Heirens, a mild-mannered studious youth with a strange Jekyll-Hyde personality, today confessed three of the most brutal killings in the annals of crime—one of which was the sensational kidnap-killing of little Suzanne Degnan.

The 17 year old University of Chicago student's calmly related story in the state's attorney's office climaxed weeks of manhunting, clue finding and confession speculation which was almost as bizarre and suspenseful as the crimes.

Slayed In Stupor

Veteran crime investigators and state legal experts sat at rapt attention for three hours today as Heirens unfolded details of the strangulation of six year old Suzanne Degnan and dismemberment of her body, the "lipstick murder" of ex-Wave Frances Brown and the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Josephine Ross, 43 year old widow.

The bushy-haired Heirens, whom his classmates described as a "nice, quiet fellow," claimed he was seized with a sort of stupor when he strangled the Degnan girl in her bed with his hands; when he shoved a 10-inch bread knife through Miss Brown's throat and after he slashed Mrs. Ross almost from ear to ear. After the crimes his mind cleared quickly, he added.

The youth blamed all the crimes on a strange compulsion and "sexual satisfaction" from committing burglaries. The killings, he maintained, were on the spot decisions after he entered the homes of the victims to steal.

The three formal and separate confessions followed by a week a previous unsuccessful attempt by the youth's lawyers to have him make his admissions to authorities. Last week he told his questioners "I don't remember" when asked about the crimes.

Today, however, State's Attorney William J. Tuohy said, he was "calm and collected in giving his confession. He gave the confession without any hesitancy and in full detail."

After the confession, Heirens was taken to the Degnan, Brown and Ross homes, and to reporters he seemed relieved as he recounted the crimes in the presence of police.

Sullenness Gone

Reported sullen much of the time during his six-week stay in Cook county jail, he smiled frequently and appeared unperturbed by a crowd of some 2,000 curious persons who gathered around.

Tuohy told reporters after the trip to the scene of the crimes—all within a square mile area in Chicago's North side—that he had no comment on the possibility of a guilty plea by Heirens or on trial procedure.

PONTIAC SLAYER
SUSPECT FREEDEdward Bellm Released
In Mystery Murder Of Alberta Rose Young

Pontiac, Mich., Aug. 6 (AP)—Edward Bellm, former Detroit policeman and private detective accused in the slaying of Alberta Rose Young last fall, was freed of a murder charge here today by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Acting on a defense motion, Judge Doty threw the case out of court for lack of evidence, declaring that "any court, either with or without a jury, would be forced to direct a verdict of not guilty."

The body of pretty 34-year-old Mrs. Young, wife of an army flier, was found shot through the head in the Clinton River the morning of Oct. 31.

Mrs. Young's death was one of two slayings in Oakland county last fall which have never been solved. The other was the mutilation slaying of Mrs. Lydia Thompson, Detroit automobile dealer's wife whose body was found in a woods.

The charge against Bellm was the second murder count to be dismissed in the case. Prior to Bellm's arrest, a similar warrant named Lawrence Theis, who worked in a Detroit war plant with both Bellm and Mrs. Young, but it also was thrown out of court.

"This is a terrible load off my mind," the 47-year-old Bellm said when he received news of Judge Doty's action. He was with his wife at the Detroit office of his attorney.

"I want to tell everyone I am completely innocent. I did not kill Alberta Young. I do not know who did," he added.

CANDIDATE PILES
UP MARGIN

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER

Associated Press Political Reporter

With 178 of 255 precincts heard from, Enos A. Axtell, favored by President Truman, had a 3,301 margin over Rep. Roger C. Slaughter in yesterday's (Tuesday) 5th district Democratic congressional primary in Missouri.

Axtell, supported also by the CIO-PAC and the Pendergast organization of Kansas City, had 14,680 to 11,379 for Slaughter, Truman-opposed, and 3,384 for Jerome Walsh.

Slaughter was gradually cutting into Axtell's early lead as returns passed the half-way mark.

First results from yesterday's six state primaries came shortly before 11 p. m. (EST) last night when Martin A. Hutchinson, Richmond attorney conceded defeat by Senator Harry E. Byrd for the Virginia Democratic senatorial nomination. Byrd at the time was ahead about two to one.

Opposed By CIO

The Virginian was opposed by the CIO-PAC. Hutchinson, first to challenge the government economy advocate since he entered the Senate in 1933, congratulated Byrd and pledged him his "full support" in the November election.

Returns from other races at 11:30 p. m. (EST) last night:

Missouri senatorial: — Democratic Senator Frank P. Briggs, Truman-supported, was far out in front of two contestants, while James P. Kem, Kansas City lawyer, was making a one-sided race in the Republican five-man contest.

West Virginia: — Senator Harley M. Kilgore, backed by the CIO-PAC, had a four to one lead for Democratic renomination over J. Buhl Shahan. In the Republican race, Thomas Sweeney, former state senator, had a two to one margin over Mayor Claude R. Hill of Oak Hill.

Kansas: — Harry H. Woodring, Democrat favoring repeal of state prohibition, and Rep. Frank Carlson, Republican, had apparently insurmountable leads for gubernatorial nominations.

New Hampshire: — U. S. Rep. Sherman Adams led Gov. Charles M. Dale for the Republican gubernatorial nomination 11,183 to 10,311 in returns from 175 of 296 towns and wards. In the Democratic governorship contest Mayor F. Clyde Keefe of Dover was gradually building up a lead over Harry Carlson, former assistant to Commerce Secretary Wallace.

Arkansas: — Rep. Radio Cravens forged ahead of Lee Whitaker, former army air force sergeant, for Democratic renomination in the 4th district with two thirds of the precincts reporting.

Virginia: — House Rep. Ralph H. Daughton of Norfolk was defeated for Democratic renomination in the second district by Porter Hardy, Jr., 43 year old farmer, but three other incumbents, including Rep. Howard W. Smith, advocate of curbs on labor unions, won renomination. The other two were Rep. J. Vaughan Gary, third district, and J. Lindsay Almond, Jr., sixth.

Commission Maps
Economic Survey
In Upper Peninsula

Lansing, Aug. 6 (AP)—An eight-member technical committee was named by the state planning commission today to consider methods of conducting a long-range economic survey of the Upper Peninsula.

The committee is scheduled to report to an August 29 meeting of the commission at Iron Mountain on the estimated cost and personnel for the survey.

Members of the committee are: Kenneth McMurray, head of the University of Michigan geography department, chairman; Robert Cross, of the U. of M. bureau of business research; E. C. Prophet, head of the Michigan State College geography department; Herbert Berg, assistant director of the U. S. C. extension service; A. H. Burrows, head of the economics department, Northern Michigan College of Education; E. J. Townsend, of the College of Mines economics department; Stanley G. Fontana, deputy director of the state conservation department, and Frank G. Pardee, conservation department mining engineer.

STORE MANAGER DIES SUDDENLY

Heart Attack Fatal To Henry S. Goss Of Badger Paint Co.

Henry S. Goss, 502 South Seventh street, died suddenly last night at his home after suffering a heart attack. Mr. Goss was born Sept. 30, 1900, at Omro, Wis., and was a graduate of East high school, Green Bay, also Green Bay business college. He was in the paper supply business for 10 years, and also in the experimental department of the A. O. Smith company, Milwaukee, before coming to Escanaba to open the Badger Paint store at 1399 Ludington. He had been a resident of Escanaba for seven months.

Survivors include his widow, the former Ruth Miller, to whom he was united in marriage Jan. 21, 1922, at Green Bay; his mother, Mrs. Clara Goss, Milwaukee, and his sister, Miss Berdena Goss, Milwaukee, both of whom were in Escanaba on a visit.

The body was taken to the Boyce funeral home, and will be shipped to Green Bay for burial.

Ann Arbor Police Chief Resigns In Probe Of Gambling

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 6 (P)—A police commission hearing of charges that two Ann Arbor officers received bribe payments from Washtenaw county gamblers began here today with a surprise announcement of Police Chief Sherman H. Mortenson's resignation.

Mortenson, suspended last June with Detective Lieut. Eugene Gehring on recommendation of Circuit Judge James R. Breakey, Jr., made the announcement through his attorney, Louis E. Burke, declaring his move was not an admission of guilt.

Burke explained the action did not change the chief's intention to "clear my name of being in league with the underworld and gamblers and of receiving gifts and gratuities for protection from arrest."

Mortenson revealed he had accepted private employment since his suspension.

The commission then announced acceptance of the resignation and said it would limit the hearing to charges that Mortenson had accepted "bribes, gifts and gratuities," omitting other charges brought by Judge Breakey.

However, after both the prosecution and counsel for Gehring objected to continuing the hearing under such circumstances, the commission decided to go on with the hearing as originally scheduled.

Christ J. Johnson, Retired Tie Worker, Dies Tuesday Night

Christ Julius Johnson, 75, 1406 N. 20th street, died at six o'clock on Tuesday evening following illness.

He was born on July 9, 1871, at Swartvik, Sundsvall, Sweden, and first came to the United States in 1896. He was a resident of Escanaba since 1902. A former employee of the Chicago and North Western tie plant here, he retired in 1937. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks.

He is survived by his wife, three sons, four daughters, six grandchildren and two brothers. The brothers live in Sweden. The children are: Mrs. Olof (Agnes) Lundberg and Mrs. Henning (Annie) Englund of Chicago; Mrs. Victor (Adel) Sundell, Escanaba; and Miss Alice Johnson, at home. Her brothers, Harry, Milwaukee; Herbert, Chicago; and Henry of Oakland, Calif.

The body was taken to the Anderson funeral home to be prepared for burial. Funeral arrangements are to be completed today.

Gromyko Criticizes U. S. For Continuing Atom Bomb Making

BY MAX HARKELSON

New York, Aug. 6 (P)—Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko today criticized the United States for continuing the production of atomic weapons while seeking to set up a world system to control atomic energy.

He said the United States seemed to consider this as a normal situation and to regard only the future as of any great importance. He added: "It is obvious that the present situation is abnormal."

"I don't see how anyone can ask other states blindly to believe in the good intentions of the United States and to accept the United States proposals, and at the same time to doubt the position of others," he said.

Gromyko spoke at a closed session of the United Nations atomic energy commission's committee No. 2 which is trying to draft an atomic control plan. The session was a stormy one at which several delegates directed pointed questions at Gromyko about Soviet proposals.

Fish Food Shortage Hampers Hatcheries In Trout Plantings

Lansing, Aug. 6 (P)—The state conservation department's plan to plant 1,000,000 legal-sized trout in Michigan waters this year is being held up by a record shortage of fish food.

The department said operation of state fish hatcheries have been hampered by the food shortage, attributed to higher prices and a factory-built houses to jog the infant prefabrication industry into life.

A number of manufacturers who plan to use the unconventional materials have requested loans. Wyatt said, "At least a dozen of them have rather advanced plans and intend to get into some kind of production this year," he added.

Bottlenecks Listed
Although the number of starts slumped in June, the number of home completions has increased steadily every month, Wyatt said. Of the 225,000 units finished, 153,000 are new permanent houses and apartments, the rest temporary dwellings, conversions and trailers. All but 40,000 of the permanent units were started in 1945.

"The total number of starts at the end of the first six months stood at 496,000 including 92,500 units started in June," the NHA administrator said.

The effort to break bottlenecks in the supply of building materials showed results, Wyatt said in a gain of seven percent in brick output for June and, a five percent gain in clay sewer pipes, and all-time production record in asphalt roofing, and sustained high production of lumber.

On the other hand, plywood output dropped off in June, as did hardwood flooring.

Simultaneously with Wyatt's report, the civilian production administration, announced that homes built under the housing program must be held and publicly offered for sale for 60 days to veterans or members of the armed forces. This is an increase from 30 days.

LIFER PAROLES ARE ERRORLESS

State Board Anxious To Keep On Picking The Right Prisoners

Lansing, (P)—The State Parole Board reported today it has yet to make an error in picking prisoners for parole under the four-year old law, and it is becoming increasingly anxious to maintain that record.

The board said 48 men and one woman have been paroled since Aug. 7, 1942 and none of them have gone astray. However, one was returned to prison for hospitalization after a relative beat him severely and another was brought back for psychiatric treatment after he cracked under the strain of providing for his new wife's five children by a previous marriage.

Under the law prisoners serving life sentences except for first degree murder may be paroled after 10 years of servitude.

The board said it had passed by many applicants for release under the law because they have not adjusted themselves well to prison life, or because their crimes had been so heinous that they did not merit consideration.

The longest term served by a person in the group released was 32 years and the shortest 11 years. Nine were sentenced for rape, 10 for second degree murder, two for assault with intent to kill, 24 for armed robbery and four as habitual criminals.

The average age of the persons released is 45 years.

Sicilian Peasants Fight Crop Seizure

Rome, Aug. 6 (P)—Sicilian peasants, fighting tank supported police, are trying to keep their crops from government granaries, opened fire with rifles in answer to an ultimatum calling upon them to surrender or suffer the burning of their town, a Palermo dispatch said tonight.

The dispatch, to the Rome newspaper Giornale Della Sera, said the peasants had suffered at least 100 casualties in the bloody battle near Palermo, but there was no indication how many, if any, were killed.

Carabinieri forces lost four killed and 18 wounded, the dispatch said, in the day-long fighting which continued into darkness.

The fighting broke out yesterday when the Carabinieri attempted to enforce a government decree ordering the peasants to consign their wheat crops to "granaries of the people."

SEA LAMPREY BILL PASSED

Bradley Measure Sent To President For Signature

Washington, D. C. (WNS)—His bill appropriating $20,000 for a study by the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Interior Department of methods of combatting the sea lamprey so prevalent in Great Lakes waters and so destructive of other fish has passed in the Senate and House and is now before the President, Rep. Fred Bradley of Michigan said today.

Favorable action is expected by the President on the Measure, especially in view of the attitude of thousands of sportsmen in the Great Lakes region.

Representative Bradley has pointed out that no opposition to the bill has been expressed and support of it has been given by thousands of sportsmen who have noted the depredations of the lamprey, a killer fish.

The bill directs the Fish and Wildlife Service to make a study of the habits of the sea lamprey and of methods of eliminating it from Great Lakes waters.

A start has already been made by the service, and approval of the Bradley bill will give further impetus to the working out of plans for destruction of the head fish which kills many game fish. Thus far weirs and traps have been used to catch the lamprey when it proceeds up rivers to spawn, but the fish is increasing in numbers and is more and more a threat to trout and bass.

ALBANIA ASKS TO TALK OVER PEACE PACTS

Earlier, the membership committee tabled an application from Soviet-sponsored Outer Mongolia after China demanded that consideration be delayed for a year or so until more information could be obtained about the rugged Asiatic country.

Declaring that up until now Outer Mongolia has exchanged no envoys with any nation except Russia, Dr. Shushi Hsu, Chinese representative, said "this may be an indication that she is not yet ready to take her place as a member of the world community."

Dues Increased, But UAW Goes Behind $70,000 Each Month

Detroit, Aug. 6 (P)—George F. Addes, secretary-treasurer of the UAW-CIO, disclosed today that the union is operating at a deficit of $70,000 a month and has less than $100,000 cash on hand.

He recommended immediate financial retrenchment and major staff reductions to cope with the emergency.

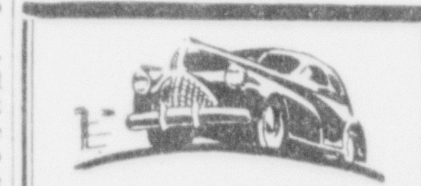

Addes' statement was contained in a report to the union's international executive board.

Chief reason for the deficit, Addes said, is that the dues paying membership has not increased at the rate anticipated. His report showed that dues paying members now total 696,000 as compared with a wartime peak of slightly over 1,000,000.

Dues were increased from $1 to $1.50 a month at the recent convention, but this has only served to cut the monthly deficit in half, he explained.

Former OPA Aides Of Bowles On New Decontrol Board

Washington, Aug. 6 (P)—Three former aides of Chester Bowles, resigned economic stabilizer, were appointed to positions with the new price decontrol board today.

They include: Walter S. Salant, of New York City, who was Bowles' economic advisor until OPA expired and who will serve the new board in the same capacity; Bice Clemow of Hartford, Conn., former executive assistant to Bowles who will serve as acting secretary of the board; and Delmer Beman, who served as information director when Bowles was OPA head. He will act as director of information for the decontrol board.

The new board, which is scheduled to begin its hearings next week, named David Cobb its general counsel. Cobb became assistant counsel of UNRRA after his discharge from the Navy last February and formerly served in several government agencies.

A fifth appointment is Harold Leventhal, Washington attorney, who was named advisor on procedural matters.

All Poultry Shows Banned In Michigan To Prevent Disease

Lansing, Aug. 6 (P)—Charles Figy, director of the State Department of Agriculture, today closed all poultry shows planned in Michigan the remainder of this year to prevent the spread of a new poultry illness, "Newcastle disease."

Figy said he acted with the approval of the poultry industry, the Michigan State College poultry department, state veterinarian and state association of fairs.

His department estimated the closing order would affect more than 100 fairs.

Dr. Fred C. Calkins, director of the department's Bureau of Animal Industry, reported poultrymen were alarmed at the rapid spread of the disease. He said the virus of the disease had been recovered from Michigan chickens.

The disease infects flocks of chickens quickly, he said, retards growth of young and stops egg production for a period.

Crysler Workers Demand Raise To Meet Living Costs

Detroit, Aug. 6 (P)—Demands for reopening of the Chrysler Corporation contract to provide cost-of-living increases for 85,000 Chrysler workers will be presented to the executive board of the CIO United Auto Workers Wednesday.

Norman Matthews, UAW Chrysler director, said residents of 15 Chrysler locals will make the formal request to the UAW board in conformity with decisions made at the recent Chrysler wage conference held here.

Reliable sources indicated the board probably will table the demand pending outcome of a CIO wage-price parity at Washington Aug. 15.

Matthews said the July 10 Chrysler conference voted to reopen the contract if prices were not held down to June 30 levels. He said the contract permits reopening of wage discussions with Chrysler on 60-day notice.

Movies will be shown to passengers on trans-ocean Clipper planes while traveling 300 miles per hour.

Details Bared In Butchery Of Suzanne Degnan

However, the Chicago Sun said tonight that it had learned from "unimpeachable sources" that in return for the confessions "Tuohy agrees to waive asking for a death penalty," and the defense "agrees that it will enter a plea of guilty on all three murders."

The Sun said also that Tuohy would recommend "Heirens be sentenced to the penitentiary for the rest of his natural life and that sentences run consecutively," and that "within 10 days the state and the defense will agree upon a panel of psychiatrists and that Heirens will cooperate with the state psychiatrist to determine the question of his sanity."

Until today the state had only circumstantial evidence against young Heirens. His finger and palm prints on the Degnan ransom note were identified by local police and the FBI in Washington. A bloody fingerprint found in Miss Brown's room also was identified as Heirens'.

May Evade Execution
The confessions—a move by which Heirens' attorneys hope to spare him from a possible sentence of death in the electric chair—ended the greatest manhunt in Chicago's history.

More than 3,000 persons were questioned and released in the Degnan case alone as every lead investigators unearthed ran into a stone wall. Scores of others were questioned in the other two slayings.

All the while, Heirens was attending his classes at the university by day and, according to his confession, prowling by night. The youth has been indicted on 29 charges of robbery, burglary and assault, many of which were committed after the slayings.

Heirens, who has spent much of his time since his arrest in prayer, gave this account of the Degnan girl slaying last January 7:

He saw the girl asleep when he crept into her bedroom from a ladder, squeezed her throat "until everything went limp" and then took her body to the basement of a nearby apartment building and cut it to pieces.

Then he wrote a note demanding $20,000 ransom because he believed that the best way to "relieve the parents" "would be to give them hope the child was alive."

He tossed the note into the girl's room, burned his bloody rain coat in an alley and then went to a neighborhood restaurant and had breakfast on doughnuts and coffee. Then he returned to his room on the South side, completed his home work and attended morning classes at the university.

He slugged and shot 33-year-old Miss Brown last December 10 when she started screaming as he climbed in her window from a fire escape, he said. He struck her several times with the butt of his pistol and shot her in the head when she continued to cry out.

Then, he added, he suffered a mental blackout. When he regained his senses, he saw her body draped over her bathtub. A ten-inch breadknife, taken from the woman's kitchen, was pushed through her throat.

He took her lipstick and penciled on her wall, "For Heaven's sakes catch me before I kill more. I cannot control myself." He wrote this message, he told State Attorney William J. Tuohy, "because of the realization of what had happened. I realized I had shot her."

Heirens said he remembered stabbing Mrs. Ross in the throat on June 3, 1945, after he entered her apartment to burglarize it, but suffered a mental blackout later and discovered he also had ransacked her apartment.

After he killed her that afternoon, he added, he went to a movie in the loop and then returned to the home of his parents for the evening meal.

"Veren't you disturbed by what you had done?" he was asked.

"No," he replied.

The youth admitted that George Murman—a character he had blamed on all the crimes charged to him—was a "concoction of my imagination." But then he added: "To me he is real. But when you get down to other people, he is not real."

The confessions to the three crimes were arranged by Heirens' attorneys in a move to save the youth from a possible penalty of death in the electric chair.

However, neither Tuohy nor Heirens' attorneys would say immediately whether any "deal" had been worked out whereby the prosecutor would recommend a life sentence for the youth.

Heirens later was taken to the Degnan home, under heavy guard, to reenact the slaying.

The highlights of Heirens' statement, put in chronological order, began at the university and cover these points:

"I left school," he said. "We were drinking. I had about six shots. Then it just came on me to go out."

He took an elevated train, fell asleep and awakened, and got off in the vicinity of the Degnan home. He saw a ladder in a back yard, put it over his shoulder, and set out "to burglarize." He saw the Degnan residence, climbed in through a window, and:

"I noticed somebody sleeping in bed. Then, as I went towards the door and as dizzy as I was, it may have awakened whoever it was, but anyway whoever was there * * * sat up. I started talking. That is where I got her."

Tubs Washed Up
In response to questions, the youth said: "Then I strangled her. With my fingers. About two minutes. Until everything went limp."

Further queries established that Heirens took the child to a basement in a nearby building, and he admitted "a knife was used" in carving the body, but he professed to be hazy about the butchery and the disposal of the segments.

In dropping the last portions—he said he thought they were the arms—"the cover fell down on my finger, and it woke me up a little bit." Heirens added he returned to the scene of the surgery, and:

"When I got back to the basement, I seen there was blood on the tub there. I had some inkling of what happened. * * * I washed up what was there (laundry tub and knife) and then it dawned on me that something must have happened to the child."

Then, the youth continued, he printed the ransom note by flashlight. The note was tossed into Suzanne's bedroom.

"I didn't address the note because I didn't know the name of the people," he elaborated. "So, to relieve the parents in all way possible I could, would be to give them some hope the child was alive."

The inference was that the kidnapping was a deed of chance, but he admitted he had note paper in his pocket.

He also expressed belief the victim was dead before she was dissected. On another point, he said he "might" have twisted a wire around the girl's neck "because of the fact I carry wire in my pocket of the type they had found" in an alley near the Degnan house.

Shortly after 5:30 a. m.—two hours and forty-five minutes after he stole into Suzanne's room—he went to a restaurant, ate and listened idly to a conversation between a waitress and a policeman.

His night's work done, the strange youth headed back to his room at the University of Chicago. He didn't go to bed, he said, but:

"I stayed up and studied."

Near the end of the Degnan case interrogation by Prosecutor Tuohy and his first assistant, Wilbert Crowley, these questions and answers were recorded:

Q. Did you get any satisfaction out of committing this particular crime?

A. No, the only thing I get satisfaction out of is the burglaries.

Q. What kind of satisfaction?

A. Sexual satisfaction.

BIDS TAKEN ON FIVE ROAD JOBS

Low Proposals On Work In U. P. Counties Totals $296,924

The state highway department yesterday received bids on five road improvement projects in the Upper Peninsula, and the proposals will be forwarded to the Lansing office of the department for final determination. The low bids on the five jobs totaled $296,924.11.

Two of the proposed projects are on state highways, and three are for the improvement of county roads. The county road projects are being financed and constructed under a cooperative program in which the federal government will match county funds dollar for dollar.

The projects, bidders and bids, are as follows:

Menominee county—Construction of three miles of grading and drainage structures on M-35 northward along the shore of Green bay from the North Shore golf course. Bacco Construction company, Iron Mountain, $66,541.45; Claude Loomis, Grand Rapids, $68,992.83; Straits Construction company, St. Ignace, $88,316.95.

Menominee county—Construction of 6.72 miles of grading and drainage structures and gravel surfacing on County Road 352 from Stephenson east to Cedar River and M-35. Bacco Construction company, $68,364.67; Alpine Construction company, St. Ignace, $73,675.47; C. G. Bridges, Escanaba, $74,526.9.

Gogebic county—Grading and drainage construction and gravel surfacing on Presque Isle Park Road. Bacco Construction company, $95,185.80.

Alcona county—Non-skid surface bituminous surface treatment on three miles of the Kiva-Limestone road, 2.5 miles of the Eben-Treary road, and 1.5 miles of the Deerton road. The Ferris company, Mason, $18,397.85; Alpine Construction company, $20,680.76; I. L. Whitehead company, Pickford, $23,576.39.

Gogebic county—Construction of a bridge carrying relocated US-2 over Little Black River in the city of Wakefield. John K. Jackson, Ironwood, $48,434.33.

Briefs

Isabella, Mich.—Miss Earleidean Sundine has returned from a two weeks visit in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allard of Chicago are vacationing at their cottage here.

Mr. and Mrs. David Beveridge of Buffalo, N. Y., and Mrs. Steve Beveridge of Shawno, Wis., visited at the George Beveridge home recently.

Mrs. Clarence Dupuis and two children returned to Lake Linden after a three weeks visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Erickson and daughter of Green Bay are spending a few days at their cottage here.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Lahala and sons, Jackie and Larry, of Gary, Ind., recently spent several days at the Jake Landis home. Mrs. Lahala and Mrs. Landis are sisters.

Miss Betty Landis spent Friday at Newberry.

Billy Beveridge, Jr., of Gladstone is spending a week at the home of his grandparents.

Miss Olive McClinchy entertained a group of friends at her cottage recently. A gift was presented to Mrs. F. Kallin, Mrs. Isadore Bonifas, Mrs. George Beveridge, and Miss McClinchy in appreciation of their help in making the Lutheran Ladies Aid play a success. Refreshments were served following a social evening.

Among those who attended the recent wedding of Miss Fern Cayemberg and Albert Gouin, which took place at Nahma, were Mrs. A. Sundine, Mrs. William Bonifas, Miss Margie Nedeau, and Mrs. George Beveridge of Isabella.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allard of Chicago are vacationing at their cottage here.

Ladies Guild Meets
Mrs. Adeline Harris will be hostess to the Catholic Ladies Guild at the Henry Turan home on Thursday afternoon, Aug. 8. Visitors are welcome.

Cayemberg-Gouin
At a double ring ceremony which took place on August 3 at St. Andrew's church at Nahma, Miss Fern Cayemberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Cayemberg of Isabella, became the bride of Albert Gouin, son of Oliver Gouin of Isabella. Fresh cut flowers decorated the altar of the church for the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Edwin Bners of Menominee. Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Clyde Tobin.

For her wedding, the bride wore a gown fashioned with a white satin bodice, and a net skirt extending in a train. She wore a finger-tip veil, and carried a bouquet of red roses. Her jewelry was a gold locket, gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Marie Cayemberg, who attended her sister, wore a pink gown of net over satin, with a brief matching veil. Her bouquet was of mixed flowers.

James Gouin, the bridegroom's brother, served as best man.

Mrs. Cayemberg attended her daughter's wedding wearing a navy blue crepe dress with matching accessories, and a shoulder corsage of roses.

Following the ceremony, a dinner and supper were served at the Cayemberg home, which was decorated for the occasion with bouquets of fresh flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Gouin, after a wedding trip to Detroit, will make their home at 114 North Second street, in Manistique, where the bridegroom is employed by the Inland Lime and Stone company. He attended schools in Nahma and Garden, and has received his discharge from the navy after two years service, 18 months of which were spent in the Asiatic-Pacific theater. The bride, who attended school at Nahma, has been employed by the Michigan Dimension company.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cayemberg, Mrs. Florence Cayemberg, Robert Cayemberg, and Kenneth Morreau of Pulaski, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gouin of Escanaba, and Mr. and Mrs. Cousineau of Manistique.

It is estimated that bees collecting nectar for one pound of honey will travel a distance equivalent to almost three times around the earth.

Delaying Public Works

THE halting of federal public works projects except such urgent construction as hospitals and veterans housing is proposed as a means to head off inflation. As such, it is a good move but there is another reason, equally important, why all federal building projects that are not essential should be held in abeyance on this time. It is the matter of cost.

Building costs today are grossly inflated. The federal government, like anyone else who builds today, is not going to get a good return on the money expended. An extremely large part of the government's building program, including postoffices, new roads, etc. can well be delayed. Materials that would be used in such construction are more vitally needed in the nation's housing program, which is the most important domestic problem of the times.

A big public works program is undesirable now from other angles of the economic viewpoint. Some thought must be given to retrenchment of the huge public expenditures so that a balanced budget can finally be achieved after many long years of deficits.

The government statistics prove that there is no great unemployment problem now but that, on the contrary, a labor shortage will probably develop within the next months. In view of this fact, it is senseless for the government to compete for labor for building projects that are not urgently needed. This is obviously not the time for boondoggling.

Home Town Industry

BRITISH Columbia industrial companies have been deriving much benefit from the new educational program developed primarily for school students by the local boards of trade.

In an effort to combat the impression among young people that they must "go away" to find suitable jobs, various industries in British Columbia have been invited to prepare stories and illustrations of occupational opportunities in their fields.

Similar programs could well be worked out in Escanaba and other Upper Peninsula communities. One of Escanaba's industries wishes to expand its operations but has had difficulty in attracting girls into its employment, chiefly because they are reluctant to work in a factory. This is just a mistaken notion that reflects back to many years ago when factory conditions were much different. Nowadays, factories are well-lighted, sanitary and have all the conveniences one finds in an office building.

The aversion on the part of women and girls to work in a factory is just a local condition. In other cities, such work is favored by many female workers, simply because they have become accustomed to it.

Urge County Courts

THE Prosecuting Attorney Associations of Michigan recently endorsed a proposal to take the lower court system of the state "out of the dark ages."

What the prosecutors propose is that the multiplicity of justice of peace courts in townships, villages and cities be discarded and a county court system established. There is much to be said in favor of the proposal.

Township justice courts, which are a carryover from the old horse and buggy days, are pretty much of a joke. Except in a few instances, township justices do not have the necessary legal training to render proper judgments in cases coming before them. Public records are usually poorly kept and other inefficiencies are glaringly apparent.

The prosecutors' association's proposal to modernize and improve the lower court system is a move that is entitled to the wholehearted support of the public.

By-Passing Main Streets

CITIZENS of Wisconsin communities raise a terrific howl if their state highway department decides to reroute main trunk lines to bypass the congested business districts.

Fortunately, this is a problem that has been settled in Michigan. A score years ago Michigan's highway department began bypassing the main streets of cities so that travelers on main trunk lines would not be delayed on long trips. At first, there was some opposition, but it eventually submitted to reason.

It is not right to expect the traveler to go through the center of every city when he is trying to reach his destination in a reasonable time. City streets are becoming more congested with automobiles and trucks, and accident hazards are increasing. Shopping is reduced rather than increased by routing motorists through the business district.

Neglect of Ballot

GOV. GOODLAND of Wisconsin is one public official who has retained the courage of his convictions despite his advanced age.

The octogenarian governor has been unmindful of the opposition of pressure groups, and when he issues an order he is not bluffing, as was demonstrated by the manner in which he has waged his fight against the lucrative gambling racket in Wisconsin.

This week, Gov. Goodland spoke caustically of the great American pastime of staying away from the polls on election day. The neglect of the ballot is one of the crying shames of our time, the governor said.

"We have sacrificed countless lives," the aged governor, declared in his proclamation, urging Wisconsin citizens to go to the polls on Aug. 13. "We have taxed ourselves and our posterity hundreds of billions that others in foreign lands might have self-government—the right to vote. And yet, most of our people make a mockery of these sacrifices by staying home on election day."

Gov. Goodland's scolding could well be given to the citizens of Michigan and other states. The American people, as a whole, still do not appreciate the value of the free ballot.

No Time to Withdraw

THE purpose of the U. S. Marines in China is to assist in restoring peace to that war-torn land and if they are going to fulfill that mission, they will have to remain there at least until a workable agreement is made between the Chinese Nationalists and the Chinese Communists.

Withdrawal of the Marines from China at this time would serve only to deliver a substantial part of China to the Communists and would further spread the Russian influence into Asia.

In the event of a full-scale offensive by Communist troops, the small detachment of U. S. Marines, 23,000, would be insufficient to repel the Reds, but is unlikely that the Communists will make an all-out attack against the Marines. To do so would invite a full American military mission in China to assist General Kai-Shek.

"JEWEL OF MANY FACETS"

(Grand Rapids Press)

Some 30,000 prospective tourists have received a copy of the Michigan Tourist council's new travel book, "Michigan—A Jewel of Many Facets." It is one of the most fascinating publications ever issued on this state's many superb natural and man-made attractions. Here in color and in black and white are more than 200 photographic studies of some of them. Here also is a running commentary on the state, its history, scenic wonders and resources. In fact, the book plus a map will serve admirably to provide the tourist with background for almost any trip he may choose to make in Michigan and to aid him in planning such a trip.

Rightly, we believe, the council has placed the emphasis on Michigan as a year around vacation state. Michigan has four distinct seasons, each with its own special attributes which make it ideal for vacationers. Aside from its natural beauties and resources, it has other interesting features to intrigue the tourist, and most of them are well covered in the book. Attention, for instance, is given to such famed engineering accomplishments as the "Soo" locks and the Ambassador bridge. Relics of Indian days and of the old logging industry are given excellent "coverage." In fact it would be difficult to think of anything important the council has overlooked.

Free of advertising and handsomely got up, the book likely will find a permanent place on many a family book shelf. It's something any Michigan visitor might prize in itself and as a reminder of wonders seen in this state. Just leafing through it is enough to spur the imagination to the point of planning a dozen or more future vacations.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

My readers are very friendly and co-operative people. Recently I asked that you send me unusual personal names to be run in this column as an interesting addition to our studies of American word lore. Names have come in by the hundreds—far too many to be acknowledged individually. Thanks very much for your thoughtful letters.

Mrs. R. L., Los Angeles, sends these names from a list of first grade students: Carolyn Longyear; Larry Endwhistle; Gary Leftie.

Mrs. E. S. B., of Springfield, Mass., collects odd names as a hobby. Her long list includes a Washington tailor named M. Y. Needle, a Boston lawyer named I. Spel, and a Dr. Toothacre, official school dentist of Burlington, Iowa.

J. W. W., of Washington, Dr. C., also is a fancier of unusual names. Among the names he submits are Yelverton Cowherd, Golden Dagger, Greek Rice, Nogi A. Asp, PGad B. Morehouse, and Sir Mordaunt Snagge Aubrey H. Y'Blood.

Mrs. E. T. S., of El Paso writes: "The first time I saw my first husband's name, signed to a telegram, I felt sure it was an error. Nobody, I thought, ever had such

Washington—"1946 is our year of decision. This year we lay the foundation of our economic structure which will have to serve for generations . . . this year we shall have to make the decisions which will determine whether or not we gain the future at home and abroad which we fought so valiantly to achieve."

Those were the brave words of President Truman in a radio address to the nation on January 3. He was reporting to the people on the issues to come before the congress soon to convene.

Children Critics of the President will say he himself had made so many wrong decisions that the nation was already badly off course. At the direction of the White House, controls were taken off construction, wage stabilization was abandoned and the war labor board abolished.

—CONSTITUTIONAL CRISIS LOOMS—

Republican congressmen will certainly try to put the blame on the President. This is the kettle calling the pot black. It serves merely to point up the serious difficulty of government under the system of divided powers. It underscores the fact that we are faced with a constitutional crisis which promises in the next two or three years to overshadow every decision and every issue.

The President's party has had a majority in both houses in congress. The President had a short-term program intended to bring about an orderly conversion from war to peace, and a long-term program designed to help keep the nation's economy on an even keel. Very few of his legislative recommendations were carried out, and those that were adopted got badly chopped up.

The most significant examples of failure are in price control and housing. A great majority of Americans wanted to continue effective price control. Yet what came out of congress was so cloudy, confused and complicated that it will not be very effective.

The large majority in the senate in favor of public housing included men who consider themselves conservatives, such as Sen. Taft of Ohio. Presumably, a similar majority in the house would have favored the Taft-Wagner-Ellender bill if it had ever got up for a vote.

Price control and housing illustrate perfectly how powerful lobbies can block needed legislation desired by a majority in congress and by a majority of the American people. A variety of special pressure groups worked to emasculate price control. The real-estate lobby successfully blocked the housing bill essential to carry out the veterans' housing program.

—COMMITTEES BLOCK BILLS—

The committee system in congress further complicates our divided government. Invoking antiquated rules, three or four Republicans blocked the housing bill in committee. When President Truman spoke last January, he foresaw that. He said:

"It is the committees which hold up action on bills. Indeed, it is usually not even the whole committee. I personally know that there are individual members of the respective committees who are trying to induce their colleagues to report bills. But often a bare majority of a committee—a handful of men—can prevent a vote by the whole committee on these measures of major policy."

The stalemate is the result of a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats. They have vetoed and vetoed and vetoed, over and over again. Among the members of this informal coalition are many who realize that it is not enough just to wield a veto.

It is not enough at a time when world stability depends to such a large degree on decisions taken in this country. That is why, this time, the failure of our divided government to function is so much more serious than it ever was in the past.

In earlier times, when economic and industrial power were not so centralized and when America's economic power was not so dominant, we could afford a "panic." We could afford a long depression, even though millions suffered.

Now, with the world contracted to the size of a baseball. We cannot afford it. The physical environment in which we live has utterly and completely changed since our constitution was framed.

Is our system of divided powers workable in the modern world? Do we have the political vigor to adapt our system, with all its strength and greatness, to the physical revolution that has occurred? How we answer those questions will determine whether we steer a middle way or yield to extremists of right or left.

Most women are capable of making their own way, says a professor. But most of them marry to have their own way.

It takes a lot of nerve to wear the modern low-cut evening dress, says a writer. Not to mention backbone!

a name as Archibald Thistle. Before marriage, my initials were R. E. S. When I married Mr. Thistle my initials became R. E. S. T. Therefore his initials and my initials were A. T., R. E. S. T., rather prophetic, for he died and is now at rest."

Dr. S. D. B., of Los Angeles, sends the most unusual name of all, and attests its authenticity by means of a clipping from the Los Angeles Times which tells of the injury, in a traffic accident, of Mrs. Mary W. Dell-Imagine. The item concludes: "Her son, Berry Dell-Imagine, received a bump on the head."

VACATIONS—Many people go on a vacation trip to get away from the routine of their work and to enjoy new sights, settings and surroundings. Upper Peninsula people in the majority find vacation pleasure in their own North Country, sharing it with the hundreds of thousands from downstate and outstate. There are other local folks, of course, who have the opportunity to take a winter vacation.

But this column Dunathan is about summer vacations—vacations in the Upper Peninsula. In the event you haven't yet toured the Upper Peninsula this would be a good summer to do so. The early-season threat of tourist accommodations taxed to the limit and no facilities for late-comers without reservations is true in some localities. In the majority, however, there are sleeping and eating facilities available for everyone.

KNOW YOUR AREA—There are many Upper Peninsula folk who know only by hearsay of the scenic and recreational advantages of the area in which they live. They have read and heard of the Pictured Rocks, the Copper Country and Mackinac Island, but they have not seen them. They have not seen the rugged coastline of Lake Superior. Houghton and Hancock, Calumet and Eagle River, Copper Harbor and old Fort Wilkins are interesting in themselves.

From the Keweenaw peninsula the Copper Country extends westward to Ontonagon and the Porcupine Mountains, and at this latter place the state is now cutting trails and improving a part of a vast state park area. There is but one improved road (M-107) that extends far into the mountains, and it is from this highway that the trail leads skyward to Lake of the Clouds.

NEARBY PLACES—Among the "Seven Scenic Wonders of the Upper Peninsula" are two which are within a one-day trip of Escanaba. They are the Big Spring near Manistique and the Pictured Rocks near Munising. You can drive there in the morning, lunch and return in the afternoon for a leisurely one-day outing.

Don't mark them down in your opinion because they are nearby. Thousands of tourists from all over the country are attracted to these places annually. The Big Spring is a vast and bubbling cauldron of water which may be viewed from a large raft which is towed back and forth on cables. There is a state park there with facilities for your comfort.

At the Pictured Rocks you will find much to entertain you—unless you are looking for bingo games and a nineteen-hole golf course. The great cliffs of varicolored sandstone rising sheer from the clear-cold depths of Lake Superior may be seen from the land or, better yet, from one of the cruise boats which put out from Munising. Trolling for lake trout is an added incentive for many.

TO THE NORTHWEST—From the touring standpoint no area of the Upper Peninsula is more satisfying than the Copper Country. From your car windows you will have spread before you an ever-changing panorama of high

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago—1936

George E. Bean, assistant to the Milwaukee city engineer, was appointed Escanaba city manager at a salary of $4,000 a year by the city council last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Coulter of Gladstone are the parents of a daughter, born August 5 at St. Francis hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Christensen, 321 South 12th street, are the parents of a son, born Thursday at St. Francis hospital.

A wedding of interest here is that of Miss Margaret Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hamilton of Rapid River, and James M. Young of Menominee which took place on Saturday, Aug. 1, at Daggett.

Gladstone—An inquest into the death of Felix Blair, 59, of 519 North 10th street, who died Monday in an Escanaba hospital about 30 hours after having been seriously injured, will be held at 4 p. m. today at the city hall.

20 Years Ago—1926

Pretty Mona McClelland, 22-year old Chicago bob-haired flapper, is in the county jail here, her arrest on a charge of larceny and the issuance of a worthless check being the climax of an adventurous ride in a mammoth Peerless automobile, which she says, she took from her "boy friend" in Chicago.

Kingsdown, England—Gertrude Ederle, American swimming marvel, tonight won the proud distinction of being the first of her sex to conquer the treacherous waters of the English channel. She accomplished the difficult feat in 14 hours, 31 minutes to establish a new record.

Spalding—Harry Tonguay, 14 years old, died suddenly here late yesterday while playing with a group of youthful friends. Over exertion of a weak heart is believed to have been the cause of death.

There is but one improved road (M-107) that extends far into the mountains, and it is from this highway that the trail leads skyward to Lake of the Clouds.

AND THE EAST—Eastward from Escanaba unrolls the principal tourist highway in the Upper Peninsula, leading through Manistique and on to the Straits of Mackinac and northward to Sault Ste. Marie.

The Straits country is the oldest, most historically and scenically interesting section in eastern Upper Peninsula. Busier now with the tourist trade than in any year in the past, it is recommended that you have reservations if you plan to stay in St. Ignace overnight. The same applies to Mackinac Island, long a favorite summer place for thousands of visitors. You may wish to stay longer, but a one-day tour of the island's Old Fort Mackinac, a carriage drive around the island (there are no cars), and a view of

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Paris — (By Wire)—Thousands of words have been cabled across the Atlantic about the peace conference debate over a two-thirds or a majority vote. At first blush this debate sounds like arguing how many angels can stand on the point of a needle. You wonder what it has to do with future peace.

The real fact, however, is that the voting procedure the essence and the heart of the peace conference. In other words, it is the whole works. And the thousands of words regarding the two-thirds debate actually can be boiled down to just twenty-four words:

RUSSIA HAS MANAGED TO WRITE WHAT SHE WANTS INTO THE PRELIMINARY TREATY DRAFTS AND TWO-THIRDS VOTE ENABLES HER TO KEEP WHAT SHE'S GOT.

It's just as simple as that. Under majority rule the anti-Russian nations could rewrite the peace treaties; under two-thirds rule Russia keeps the treaties as they are.

That's why some of the smaller countries are so irate at patient Jimmie Byrnes for not backing them on majority rule. They know that under the two-thirds rule Europe will be partitioned the way Russia wants it, not as the best interests of peace require it, and that this conference had better have the word "peace" struck out and the word "war" inserted just ahead of "conference."

In order to get better acquainted with the conference delegates gracious Secretary of State Byrnes staged a reception last week at the American Embassy. In contrast with the pomp and splendor of uniforms and gold braid at the French official reception, Byrnes' affair was impressive for its dignified simplicity. He remembered Benjamin Franklin, our first ambassador to France, who wore homespun amid the lace and foderol of the French court.

Jimmie Byrnes stood in the receiving line, shaking hands with the delegates. Close adviser Ben Cohen, who sees Byrnes every day, came down the line.

"I'm not going to waste a handshake on you, Ben," said the secretary of state, with a kidding grin, then shaking hands just the same.

Afterward, Byrnes told friends this story to illustrate the importance of shaking hands:

"When I was sworn in as Justice of the Supreme Court," he said, "all my friends on the court shook hands and congratulated me. We were standing just behind the curtains separating us from the courtroom and just as we were about to go on the bench Stanley Reed took me aside and told me that, just before we sat down on the bench, I should shake hands with everyone again."

"I told Stanley that I had just shaken hands with everyone and I saw no reason for shaking hands twice but he insisted that I do it and later I found out the reason why. About fifty years before there had been a particularly bitter dispute between members of the court, following which the chief justice had insisted that they all shake hands just before they went on the bench to show there was no hard feelings."

"It was a wise custom," concluded Byrnes, "and it's continued to this day."

"What will happen," asked a friend, "when Justice Jackson returns to the court and is called upon to shake hands with Hugo Black?"

"Oh, I think they'll behave like gentlemen," replied the secretary of state.

NOTE — The only justice who didn't follow this handshake tradition was McReynolds, who sat in a corner and didn't shake hands unless the others came to him.

—BYRNES DROPS PALESTINE

BUSINESS—

Here is what's happening behind the scenes in Paris regarding the British-American tug-of-war over Palestine. One week ago Sunday Jimmie Byrnes, after dining with Prime Minister Attlee, got Truman on the Trans-Atlantic telephone and urged him to accept the British proposal for partitioning Palestine into Jewish and Arab zones. Truman, however, decided he couldn't accept and later informed his secretary of state that the British foreign office had a much better offer on Palestine that it was holding in reserve and he intended to wait until the British put all their cards on the table.

Last Wednesday Byrnes had another talk with Attlee when he apologized for the U. S. failure to accept and the next day Jimmie telephoned Truman that he was washing his hands of the whole Palestine business. He indicated he had enough to do at the peace conference and would leave Palestine entirely up to White House. Meanwhile Truman is considering putting his close friend, Ed Pauley, in charge of Palestine negotiations. Pauley has already handed in a blistering report on the urgent need of action in Palestine with the result that the President has considered the idea of dropping amiable Henry Grady as his top, Palestine adviser. However, Loy Henderson and other state department officials are much opposed to firing Grady and there is considerable state department disagreement about the whole thing.

FORGER BOUND TO HIGH COURT

Florence, Wis., Man Is Held In Default Of $3,000 Bond

Antwine J. Steadick, 41, of Florence, Wis., employed in Escanaba since last May by the Concrete Products company, yesterday waived examination in Justice Henry Ranguette's court to three charges of forging and passing three of the company's checks and was bound over to circuit court for trial in October. He is held in jail in default of $1,000 bond on each count.

In court yesterday Steadick volunteered that he had taken the blank checks from the office of the concrete plant and forged the name of his employer, Sam H. Mills. The checks were made payable to fictitious characters and were cashed in local taverns.

One check for $40 and another for $35 were cashed July 26, and a third for $30 was cashed June 20.

In addition to the three checks on which the charges against Steadick were drawn, the man had confessed to Police Chief Michael Ettenhofer that he had forged and passed four others. The total amount of the checks was $200. All of the checks were forged and cashed since June 14.

Arthur W. Quirt, Iron River, Dies

Iron River, Arthur W. Quirt, 86, pioneer logger and lumberman of this district, and author of a series of articles on early woods and mill operations here, died suddenly Saturday, after a brief illness, at the home of his son, Wilfred Quirt, in Hawley, Minn.

Born in Province of Ontario, Canada, Mr. Quirt and his two brothers, the late Alex and John, migrated to Oconto county, Wis., where they remained for several years. Arthur and Alex came to Iron River about 1882. They traveled by trail to Iron River, as the railroad line then stopped at Quinnessee near Iron Mountain.

Arthur entered the logging business and Alex became a hardware dealer.

The three Quirt brothers married three McDowell sisters in Oconto county. All the wives are living.

Besides his widow, Mr. Quirt leaves two sons, Wilfred, Hawley, Minn., and Walter Quirt, Michigan State college, East Lansing, and four daughters, Mrs. Frank Purcell, Ann Arbor; Mrs. Ethel Johnson, East Lansing; Mrs. Mildred Johnston, Toronto, Canada, and Mrs. Marjorie Bickelhaup, Eskine, Minn. Ben L. Quirt, Iron River, is a nephew, and Mrs. M. J. Quirt, this city, a sister-in-law.

Sault Ste. Marie—State convention of the Michigan Association of County Treasurers in 1947 will be held at Sault Ste. Marie, it was announced today by Herbert C. Ryan, Chippewa County treasurer, who attended this year's convention at Houghton Lake last week.

"They all wanted to come here," Mr. Ryan said, "so we were glad to invite them."

The convention will be July 1, 2, 3 and 4, 1947, and between 200 and 300 are expected to attend, including most of the 83 county treasurers and families.

BOER WAR VET DIES

Stambaugh—John W. Horne, 67 veteran of the Boer war, died at 7 yesterday morning at his home, 302 Madison, after a long illness. Former employee of Pickands, Mather and company, Mr. Horne suffered a stroke two years ago, and had since been ailing.

Born Sept. 26, 1878, in Salsdon, Ketley, England, he came to this country in 1907, shortly after he was discharged from the British army. He served two years with the British forces in the Boer war, South Africa.

Van Wagoner Names Gerald Cleary As Campaign Manager

Detroit, (AP)—Gerald J. Cleary, of Escanaba, was named by Murray D. Van Wagoner as manager of his campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial election.

Cleary graduated from Notre Dame university and is manager of an Escanaba oil company. In a statement urging Van Wagoner's election, Cleary said:

"It is my hope that the voters in November will endorse the veterans' bonus by an overwhelming majority. * * * It is the least we can do for the men and women who made the sacrifices essential to victory."

He promised a "vigorous campaign" in the contest with Kim Sigler, Republican nominee.

Income Tax Experts Work With FBI On War Profits Case

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—Chairman Mead (D-NY) of the Senate War Investigating Committee said today two federal income tax experts were going to work on the Garsson munitions combine case, with company officials probably first on their list.

Mead told reporters he expected this checkup to take in the Cumberland Lumber Company of which Rep. Andrew J. May (D-Ky) was fiscal agent in Kentucky. May has denied profiting from the firm's operations.

Mead offered records of the committee probe into the combine's profits to Attorney General Clark who announced that the FBI was working on books and records of the 19 companies. A decision will be made later on whether to start grand jury proceedings, Clark stated.

Clark said he had designated William A. Paisley of the war frauds criminal section to head attorneys working with the FBI to "analyze fully the evidence."

New Streamliner On Pere Marquette Given Christening

Detroit, Aug. 6. (AP)—With its maize and blue finish polished to a high gloss and its prow splashed with water from the Detroit and Grand Rivers, one of the stream-lined "Pere Marquette" was christened this afternoon for speedy railroad service on the Detroit-Lansing-Grand Rapids run.

The ceremony was held in Detroit's Fort Street station with Joan Kelly, 16-year-old daughter of Gov. Harry F. Kelly doing the bottle smashing after a pre-inaugural run from Grand Rapids to Detroit.

Aboard were newspapermen, public relations officials, railway executives and representatives of the companies that built the streamliner's cars and diesel locomotive.

The railway executives were headed by R. J. Bowman, president of the Pere Marquette and Chesapeake & Ohio railroads.

And on the speaker's platform were Mayor George Welsh of Grand Rapids, Mayor Ralph W. Crego of Lansing and Robert M. Dalton, secretary to Detroit Mayor Edward Jeffries.

From the electro-motive division of General Motors Corp., builder of the "Pere Marquette" locomotives, President Bowman received a gold-plated throttle lever. Following a series of introductions, Miss Kelly christened the streamliner by breaking a bottle of water from the Grand and Detroit Rivers under its headlight.

Miss Kelly made her first swing good and then went through several encores of bottle smashing for a battery of photographers who stood on a baggage wagon beside the speakers' platform.

Public relations men explained that the traditional champagne was ruled out in favor of the river water because the water seemed more symbolic of the "joining anew of the two areas of Michigan by means of the newest in travel equipment."

Bob Linden And Jack Edick Are Honored By Scouts

Boy scouts meeting at the Order of the Arrow convocation at Camp Red Buck last week end elected Bob Linden of Escanaba as chief and Jack Edick, also of Escanaba, as scribe.

Scouts of this region also initiated new candidates into the honorary scout camping society on Saturday evening. The boys have been campers for two or more years and have passed on other qualifications.

Plans were made to send a carload of boys to Chanute Field, Ill., to participate in the national Order of the Arrow conference from August 27 through 29. Bob Linden of Escanaba was elected to represent Red Buck council. Other chapters in the Upper Peninsula that were present at the meeting also selected their spokesmen.

Rumor Of Unsafe City Water Denied

A. C. Christensen, city water department superintendent, yesterday reported that repeated tests show the city water supply to be safe and clean. His statement was made to refute rumors that the water is unsafe.

Regular tests are made and not once have the tests revealed the presence of harmful bacteria, Christensen said.

The statement of the water superintendent was made after a telephone call from an Escanaba woman was received in which the woman said that she had been advised to boil the water because of the "germs". The woman refused to give her name, Christensen said.

This summer, as in other years, it has been necessary to pump some water from the bay to supplement the supply from the four deep wells, Christensen said. The bay water is filtered and chlorinated.

BOND CASHING NOT SO MUCH

Redemptions Reported To Be Far Below Expectations

By PETER EDSON
Washington, (NEA.) — The wholesale wave of cashing in war bonds, so freely predicted a year and more ago, has not materialized, and apparently it isn't going to. For the first six months of 1946 sales of all types of war savings bonds were half a billion dollars greater than redemptions.

The period of war-contract cancellations, of reconversion, has come and gone; a long, hard period of strikes has come and gone. And still over 71 per cent of all bonds sold are held by their owners.

Figures released by the Treasury's War Savings Division give total sales to date as totaling 42 billion dollars. Twelve billion dollars' worth have been cashed in, and 30 billion dollars' worth are outstanding.

If the percentage turn-in sounds high, it can be explained by a number of factors not visible in the figures themselves. Reasons given by people who have cashed in their savings bonds provide good source material on what has happened to the financial condition of large numbers of people in the last year.

The number of people who are buying bonds on payroll-deduction plans has fallen off. The high was 27 millions, last November. Today, it is 15 million.

Naturally, when there were cancellations of war contracts, layoffs, strikes and other work stoppages, and when millions of war-bond buyers were discharged from the armed services, many people had to stop buying. But the idea that all, or a large part, of the wage-earners have had to turn in their bonds does not appear to be correct.

Lead In Redemptions
Those who have cashed their bonds are not necessarily the ones hardest hit by strikes. In the Pittsburgh and Detroit areas, which were the centers of steel and auto strikes that lasted nearly 100 days, redemptions actually declined during the shut-down period.

Workers whose earnings in these industries were better than average weathered the strikes without having to sacrifice savings. Lower income groups did not fare so well.

During the war years there were 10 million people making $15 a week or less. Half of them bought bonds.

In the next income group, people earning from $15 to $35 a week three-fourths bought bonds. Instead of buying $5 savings stamps, which were all they could afford and all that would have been expected of them, they bought higher-denomination bonds. When the war was over and their earnings declined, they had to cash in first, and they're out of the bond-buying market now.

Redemptions were highest last October. The Victory-Bond drive of November and December reversed that trend, and in January always a good bond-buying month, sales were greater than redemptions.

For the first six months of 1946 sales of "E" Bonds in the farm states of Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, and the Dakotas, plus the high-average-income District of Columbia and the state of Massachusetts, were greater than redemptions. These are the best records.

Held Bonds During Strike
West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Kentucky—the big coal-producing states—have good records, with only 20 to 25 per cent of the bonds owned there cashed in, despite the coal strike.

In general Southern and Western states have the lowest records with from 28 to 53 per cent of their people's bonds cashed in.

Southern California and Michigan, which were big aircraft-production centers, also experienced heavy cashing-in of bonds in the first half of the year. But much of it is believed to have come from migrant war-workers who cashed in their bonds in the states where they had bought them, then used the money to go back where they came from.

Some of the case histories run down by Treasury's war-savings staff showed that these former war-workers went back to their native districts to buy farms and re-establish homes, paying cash from their bonds. Okies and Arkies who migrated to California poor in the drought years went back prosperous after cashing in their war bonds.

Treasury will put on another drive to sell bonds next fall. They hope that by that time there will be enough stability so that sales will again exceed redemptions.

Fishing Boat Sinks, Sends Out An SOS

San Diego, Calif., (AP)—The Coast Guard reported late today that it had received an SOS from the fishing boat Mary Bell saying it was "sinking fast" 45 miles south of San Clemente Islands. The boat carried a crew of 12.

The navy immediately dispatched two destroyers and three cutters to the scene, about 45 miles northwest from here. The Coast Guard also sent a cutter and two planes.

The planes after arriving at the position given by the Mary Bell radioed to Coast Guard headquarters that they had not sighted a ship nor any wreckage. The search was being continued.

WATERING POTATOES IN THE GRAND MANNER—Escanaba Rotarians on Monday toured Delta county farms, stopped at the Emil DeBacker farm at St. Nicholas to inspect the irrigation system which is helping DeBacker produce a bumper crop of certified potatoes. Seven hundred gallons of water per minute was being pumped and sprayed on the potato plot at the time the picture was taken. DeBacker is hoping to out-do his 1944 record when he produced 715 bushels of potatoes to the acre to establish himself as the champion potato grower of the state.

McNabb's Removal Being Reviewed; Wait Decision

Circuit Judge George W. DesJardins of Lapeer county, presiding in court in Menominee because of the illness of Judge Frank A. Bell of Negaunee, will at Judge Bell's request review proceedings of the Delta county board which resulted last spring in the removal of Marcus McNabb of Escanaba as a member of the Delta county road commission.

In May Judge Bell issued a writ of certiorari on petition of McNabb which brought the ouster proceedings before circuit court for hearing.

Prosecutor J. Clyde McGonagle, representing the Delta county board of supervisors, yesterday presented the county's statement of position in the matter before Judge DesJardins at Menominee. The position of the plaintiff McNabb was presented by Atty. Herbert J. Rushton, counsel for the petitioner.

Records and proceedings of the Delta county board of supervisors in connection with a three-day hearing which resulted in the removal of McNabb by the board April 30 have been certified to Judge DesJardins for the hearing. The statements of the prosecutor and counsel for McNabb are supplementary to the record to assist the court in arriving at a decision or opinion.

Judge DesJardins decision, when made, will be filed with the Delta county clerk.

McNabb as plaintiff claims that the proceedings which resulted in his removal as road commissioner were without legal foundation to support the charges made against him and others of the commission. It was also claimed in McNabb's petition that none of the charges were proved at the hearing, and that three members of the county board were biased and therefore not competent to sit at the hearing.

Following the removal of McNabb by the county board, Henry Wylie, Escanaba high school faculty member and a former supervisor, was appointed to fill the vacancy. Judge Bell later issued an order halting either Wylie or McNabb from attending road commission meetings.

Prosecutor McGonagle at a May meeting of the board of supervisors said that he believes the county board is entirely within its rights in appointing a successor to McNabb, and that the procedure resulting in the removal of Mc-

Nabb was legal and proper.

The prosecutor added that the circuit judge does not have authority to set aside the decision of the county board in the matter of McNabb's removal, but if sufficient cause is brought forth the case may be referred by the circuit judge to the supreme court for decision.

"UNBLOCK" your DIGESTIVE TRACT

And Stop Dosing Your Stomach With Soda and Alkalizers

Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking soda and other alkalizers if the true cause of your trouble is constipation.

In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And when it gets blocked it fails to digest properly.

What you want for real relief is not soda or an alkalizer—but something to "unlock" your intestinal tract. Something to clean it out effectively—help Nature get back on her feet.

Get Carter's Pills right now. Take them as directed. They gently and effectively "unlock" your digestive tract. This permits your food to move along normally. Nature's own digestive juices can then reach it. You get genuine relief that makes you feel really good again.

Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore—25¢. "Unlock" your intestinal tract for real relief from indigestion.

Century Of U. P. Journalism Told At Press Meeting

One hundred years of journalism in the Upper Peninsula was outlined by Luke Scheer, Royal Oak historian and editor, in an address at the meeting of the Michigan Press association in Newberry last week.

He traced the history of newspapers from the day that John Nathaniel Ingersoll, founder of the Lake Superior News and Miners' Journal, landed at Copper Harbor aboard the sailing ship "Napoleon," on July 11, 1846.

First Issue July 11, 1846
Mr. Scheer presented a comprehensive and factual report of the trials and tribulations of Ingersoll as the editor of the paper, the Lake Superior News and Miners' Journal at Copper Harbor, Keweenaw Peninsula, first issue of which came off the press July 11, 1846. He listed the following dates of the following papers: 1863—Menominee Herald-Leader 1873—Negaunee Iron Herald 1878—St. Ignace Republican News and Enterprise 1878—Ishpeming Iron Ore 1879—Sault Ste. Marie Evening News

Blesch Asks Court To Return His Car Operating License

Menominee—Judge George W. DesJardins presiding in Menominee circuit court in absence of Judge Frank A. Bell recessed Monday afternoon's session long enough to send Dan Van Wagoner, U. P. investigator for the secretary of state's office, for an automobile ride with G. A. Blesch, retired Menominee banker, to determine whether Blesch's driver license should be reinstated.

Blesch petitioned to circuit court for reinstatement after the Michigan State Police had revoked his license in April and their decision was upheld by the driver's parole board, consisting of representatives of the State Police, attorney general and the secretary of state's office.

On the stand Blesch stated that he had driven a car for many years, had never been arrested for a traffic violation and was never involved in an accident. He said he needed his car for his business and to make trips to Powers, where he is a trustee at Pinecrest Sanatorium, and to Green Bay to attend meetings of the Menominee River Sugar company, of which he is a director.

Cross-examined by Prosecuting Attorney Michael J. Anuta, who appeared for the state, as to whether he had tried to employ a chauffeur, Blesch testified that he had but that "they are not reliable."

Corp. Ralph Sheehan of the Michigan State Police said that Blesch had been summoned to appear for a driver's examination which was held in the sheriff's office at the county jail. Sheehan testified that the examination convinced him that Blesch's eyesight was poor, his hearing seriously impaired and that his whole physical locomotion was such as to hamper his proper control of a car. He said that Blesch was in the habit of driving a car at between 10 and 15 miles an hour and that he was inclined to drive in the middle of the road.

Cross examined by Attorney George Barstow, counsel for Blesch, as to whether Blesch's age might react against him on a license, Sheehan said age was not a consideration and that, in fact, he had approved a license a week ago for a driver 94 years old. He said the only thing under consideration was whether Blesch's operation was constituted a danger to others on the highway. He said he did not ask Blesch to demonstrate his car-driving because he thought it would put him at a disadvantage if he were called upon to drive under critical police scrutiny.

VanWagoner, who, as a representative of the secretary of state, was on the board that approved revoking of the license, corroborated testimony as to Blesch's condition given by Sheehan.

Asked by Attorney Barstow if he thought he could better judge Blesch's ability to drive after taking a ride with him, VanWagoner replied he "probably could."

Miss Katherine Kilgren, daughter of Mrs. Magda Kilgren of Milwaukee, and Floris Fredricksen, son of Mrs. Marie Fredricksen, 329 South 19th street, Escanaba, were married at Crown Point, Ind., Saturday, Aug. 3. The Rev. T. H. Adkins of the Presbyterian church performed the ceremony.

The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Peary Hansen, Milwaukee, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a navy blue suit with pink accessories, and her attendant wore a coral afternoon dress with black accessories. Both wore corsages of sweet peas and roses.

The bride is a graduate of Bay View high school of Milwaukee, the Spencerian Business college and the Zipper School of Calculating. The newlyweds will make their home in Escanaba.

Bright Dress Is Tonic For Blues

When the night's rest has been cut short, your mirror seems particularly spiteful or you've had a feud with a friend, dress up in your best bib and tucker. You'll need sprucing up as a prop to keep your spirits from diving to cellar-floor level.

When her mood is off-key, a woman has a tendency to pull her most indifferent-looking duds out of her wardrobe. Results? A bad mood grows into something pretty dismal. Where she might find comfort—in her mirror—there is none to be had.

The "bad" day, says an expert —Pere Westmore of Hollywood, who knows a thing or two about the off days of glamor-girl studio clients—calls for your newest, most flattering and most gaily colored dress. And as for a hat, he says, the choice there should be, without exception, the most amusing one in your chest.

Until modern times only royalty and near royalty could display fine diamond rings. Today in the United States where a diamond engagement ring has become an entrenched tradition, most altar bound girls own one.

MARRIED RECENTLY — Miss Marilyn Frasher, daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. George Frasher of San Pedro, Calif., became the bride of Noah E. Marcoe, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Noah E. Marcoe, Sr., at a July ceremony which took place at St. Joseph's church. The couple are residing in Escanaba. (Ridings Photo.)

Marilyn Frasher, Noah Marcoe Jr., Are Wed Recently

St. Joseph's church was the scene of a recent ceremony which united in marriage Miss Marilyn Mae Frasher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Frasher of San Pedro, Calif., and Noah Marcoe, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Noah E. Marcoe, Sr., 325 South 18th street.

Bouquets of gladiolus decorated the altar, where the couple exchanged vows before the Rev. Fr. Alphonse Wilberding. Music of the mass was sung by the St. Joseph choir, with solos by Mrs. Eldridge Bo'er. At the offertory, Earl Owen sang "Ave Maria." The traditional wedding marches were played by the organist, Miss Eva Cossette.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a long dress of shell-pink chiffon. A tiara of orange blossoms held in place her white finger-tip veil, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, baby breath, and gladioli. For her jewelry, she wore a triple strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Carol Frasher, who was bridesmaid for her sister, also wore a pink gown, fashioned of lace over taffeta. Her bouquet of pink flowers was similar to the bride's.

Donald Hermes, friend of the bridegroom, served as best man. Rosalie Stern was the flower girl and Billy Stern was the ring-bearer.

Mrs. Frasher attended her daughter's wedding wearing an aqua dress with peach accessories. Mrs. Marcoe wore a black dress with matching accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of red roses.

Following the ceremony, the members of the two families attended a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Raymond Wendt. Later, guests attended a wedding dinner at the Ludington Hotel. In the evening, reception and dance were held at Car. e. ter's Hall.

After a trip to upper Michigan, Wisconsin and Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. Marcoe are residing at 1321 First avenue north.

The bridegroom, who attended St. Joseph school, is employed at the Delta Hardware. Mrs. Marcoe is a graduate of San Pedro high school.

Among the out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Frasher, River Reuge; Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Marcoe, Hermansville; Mrs. Ray Carley, Marinette; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Dorne and Miss Olive Marcoe, Hermansville; and Mrs. Joseph Trucky and son of Gladstone.

Rotes Hear Talk
By OVA Counselor
At Monday Meeting

Manistique Rotarians heard an interesting report by Leonard Multhaupt, local veterans counselor, on the establishment, functions and services of the Office of Veterans Affairs at their regular Monday luncheon meeting at the Elks club.

Multhaupt has been in charge of the local office since January of this year. Before that time and since the organization of the local OVA in July, 1944, the work had been partly done by volunteers.

The Manistique counselor explained the veterans emergency hospital service and gave a brief summary of the activities of the local office during the past six months.

Multhaupt encouraged Rotarians, in their contact with veterans, to emphasize to them the importance of renewing or keeping their National Service life insurance, the provisions of which were recently liberalized by act of Congress.

During the past two weeks, seven Schoolcraft veterans, two of them veterans of World War I, received hospitalization through the veterans emergency hospital service, Multhaupt said. Two of the men were sent to the general hospital at Woods, Wis.

Mrs. Ruth Parker of Chicago visited recently in Manistique with her brother, Tom Shampine, her sister, Mrs. Jack Gould, and her mother, Mrs. Robert Munroe.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our sincere appreciation of the wonderful acts of kindness showed us by relatives, neighbors and friends during the illness and death of our husband and father. We are very grateful to Rev. Gerald W. Bowen, those who sent floral offerings, those who donated the use of their cars, those who served as pallbearers and all others who aided us in so many ways. The memory of these acts of kindness will always remain with us.

NO TRUCE IN LOCAL STRIKEEfforts For Resumption
Of Negotiations
Fail

Recent efforts by John Luecke, U. S. Department of Labor conciliator, to arrange a meeting between management and representatives of some 40 employees of the Northwoods Manufacturing company, on strike since Friday, July 26, were evidently unsuccessful and negotiations have not been resumed.

Emerel Tetreault, president of Local No. 2979, AFL, Carpenters and Joiners Union, whose members are employed at the plant, stated that C. S. Slining, general manager of the Northwoods company, refuses to negotiate and that the union has reported the matter to the state labor relations board.

Mr. Slining could not be reached yesterday for a statement. Striking employees ask a 12½ cent hourly wage increase over the basic 62½ cents per hour paid by the plant. The union also demands that truck drivers in the employ of the company be recognized as members of the local.

The plant has not been in operation and there has been no picketing since the first day of the strike.

Girls Day Camp At

Neighborhood Kids Put On Seven Bout Card
Here Tonight

Munising—Edward Vertz of the Papermill addition and Delbert Mercier of Bay View addition are scheduled to mix blows for the main bout this evening of the regular weekly Wednesday boxing matches to be held at the Bay View addition ring. There will be at least seven fights on the card with the possibility of an eighth bout if they find a person to match against Glenn Perry, an 88 lb. fistie enthusiast.

The boxing ring, being constructed by fathers and other interested persons will be ready for use this week. It was announced by Sue Spencer yesterday. The lumber, enough to make a regulation size ring, was donated by the city of Munising, authority for which was granted at last week's meeting of the city commission.

The fights will begin at 7 o'clock. The bouts will last three rounds with each round being one minute long.

This week's card was announced yesterday as follows:
Patrick Gollinger 44 lbs., Bay View Addition vs. Sherman Nebel 45 lbs., Bay View.

Donald Brown, 52 lbs., Christmas vs. William 'Red' Davis, 50 lbs., Bay View.

Joseph Kee, 65 lbs., Tourist camp vs. Robert Spencer, 60 lbs., Bay View.

Philip Moulds, 59 lbs., Munising.

Commerce Chamber Announces V-J Day Plans For Munising

Munising—V-J day celebration plans were completed at the board of directors meeting of the Munising Chamber of Commerce, held Monday evening and a program of the day was drawn up.

The program was announced yesterday by secretary Lewis J. Merwin as follows:

Memorial services—10:30 a. m.
Junior league ball game between Newberry and Munising—1:30 p. m.
Boxing—3:30 p. m.
Waterfront—5:00 p. m.
Band Concert—7:00 p. m.
V-J day address by Rev. Father O. J. LaMothe—8:00 p. m.
Parade—9:00 p. m.

The line of march will take the parade from Munising avenue down Lynn street to Superior street over to Maple street onto Onota street and down to the post office where it will be disbanded.

Everyone is invited to enter into the parade and make it a general celebration. It is hoped that a re-enactment of the parade will be made as close to the original V-J day parade as possible.

The V-J day celebration is sponsored by the Munising Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations.

Three Publications Have Fish Contests

Munising—Three publications, two newspapers and a national magazine, are conducting fishing contests this year and the proper blanks for lucky anglers to fill out are available at the Munising Chamber of Commerce office, Lewis J. Merwin, secretary, announced yesterday.

The three publications are the Escanaba Daily Press and the Detroit Free Press, for the Michigan territory and Field and Stream magazine running a nation-wide fishing contest.

Anyone, resident or tourist, catching fish they think large enough to win a prize in any of the above mentioned publications are urged by Mr. Merwin to get blanks from his office and have them filled out and sent in.

Data needed is the type of pole, line, reel and lure or bait, with which the fish was caught, and the length and girth measurements and weight of the fish. Two witnesses must also sign in all cases and if the fish is eligible for a prize photograph is requested although are not necessary when submitting the blanks.

The length of the fish must be the caliper length and not a tape measure length, Mr. Merwin said.

Blanks for the magazine contest (national) must be notarized, but for the two papers it is not necessary although they may call for affidavits.

DRY CLEANING PLANT OPENING

Alray Cleaners Have Most Modern Of Equipment

The Alray Dry Cleaners, a new dry cleaning establishment, is opening in Gladstone today at 23 South Tenth street under the ownership and management of Albert Tibergien.

All of the equipment in the plant is new and of the most modern type available. Final tests and checkups on the equipment were made yesterday by a factory representative.

Heading the experienced staff of employees which has been assembled by Tibergien is Melvin Erickson, formerly of Escanaba and Flint, who has had 18 years experience in dry cleaning plants and is an expert spotter.

Tibergien, the owner, is a graduate of Gladstone high school, Class of 1938, and later attended Notre Dame University. The war interrupted his schooling and he served with the 32nd Michigan, or Red Arrow Division in the Pacific, and was among the men of the 32nd to make the famed crossing of the Owen Stanley Mountains in New Guinea.

Growth On Potato Plants Is Puzzling

Yesterday John Pettit was displaying a cluster of small green balls, not unlike tiny tomatoes, which were growing from potato plants in the garden of Mrs. L. J. Smith.

He said that potato plants in the Smith yard had many of the clusters which grew above ground while potato plants in his yard were free of them.

No one could be found who definitely knew what the growth was, although one person who viewed them said they were seed pods and if allowed to ripen could be used as potato seed.

It was learned later in the day that similar growths marked some of the potato fields in the famed St. Nicholas area. Although some of the potato growers there are

District Softball Tournament Opens At Lighted Park Tonight

THREE GAMES TO BE PLAYED

First Contest Will Be At 7:15; Local Elks Vs. Van Mills

The district softball tournament will open in Escanaba tonight with three Class B games booked for the lighted field. Play in Class A will open Thursday night. The Van Mills team of Gladstone and the Escanaba Elks will open the district tournament at 7:15 o'clock, followed by Bill's Bar of Kingsford and the Delta Transit of Escanaba at 8:15. The final game of the night will feature the Birds Eye of Escanaba and the Milwaukee Journal of Iron Mountain at 9:15 at the lighted field. No tournament games are scheduled tonight at other diamonds in the city.

The tournament program will move into high gear Thursday, with two Class A games at the lighted field and a Class B game booked there. In addition there will be five other Class B games played at No. 1, No. 4 and the Ludington Park diamonds on Thursday night.

Two twilight games are scheduled for Thursday and Friday nights at each of the non-lighted diamonds, except that only one game will be played Thursday night at Ludington Park. Teams scheduled to play at any of the non-lighted diamonds are reminded to report early and to be prepared to play at scheduled starting hour. Complete cooperation will be necessary to complete two games at each diamond before darkness intervenes.

George Greenholm, secretary of the Escanaba softball association, is tournament manager and Clifford Frasher is tournament clerk. Tournament headquarters have been established at the lighted field and a telephone has been installed there.

Managers of all teams participating in the tournament are requested to report at tournament headquarters upon their arrival in Escanaba. Player passes will be distributed and other information pertinent to the tournament will be available there. Regular season passes distributed to Escanaba players at the start of the season are valid for tournament games. The diamond at the lighted field is in first class condition and all other diamonds to be used for tournament games also have been reconditioned. The small scoreboards near the first and third bases at the lighted field are being removed to the No. 1 and No. 4 diamonds today and the large scoreboard in centerfield has been enlarged and will be lighted.

Umpire assignments for tonight's games at the lighted field are: Joe Gardner and Wilford Brown at 7:15 and Frank Hirn and Toots Romin at 9:15.

HUGHSON SHUTS OUT ATHLETICS

Boston, Aug. 6 (AP)—Yielding but not all singles, Tex Hughson won his 12th game of the season today for the Boston Red Sox who vanquished the eighth place Philadelphia Athletics 5-0.

The shutout was Hughson's fourth of the year and was accomplished without the services of Ted Williams and for part of the game, without Johnny Pesky, who suffered a slight ankle sprain.

Williams, who suffered a stomach upset in Detroit over the weekend, sat out the game. "Just a bit tired, I'll be back tomorrow," Ted said.

Bobby Doerr belted his 15th home run of the season in the first inning. He scored Wally Moses, who had singled.

Bobby's blast was made off no hit Dick Fowler, the starting and losing pitcher.

The league leaders scored their third run in the third inning. Johnny Pesky singled, stole second, went to third on an infield out and crossed the plate after Hank Majeski booted Doerr's grounder.

Don Gutteridge doubled to the left field corner in the fifth and took third as Pesky tried desperately to beat out an infield grounder. It was on this play that Pesky turned his ankle. Trainer Win Green said Johnny probably would be back in the lineup tomorrow.

Gutteridge scored after Moses fled out to Tuck Stainback in deep right center.

The last Boston run came in the eighth. Rudy York singled, went to second when Tom McBride was walked, took third after Hal Wagner was hit by a pitch and scored when Hughson drew a base on balls.

MICKEY FED UP ON MEX LEAGUE

Catcher Would Like To Rejoin Dodgers And Help Win Series

BY JACK RUTLEDGE
Brownsville, Tex., Aug. 6 (AP)—Mickey Owen, former Brooklyn catcher who jumped the Dodgers to play in the Mexican league, said here today he was definitely through with Jorge Pasquel's Mexican baseball setup and would like to rejoin the Dodgers and help them win the world series.

"If I can't get back into organized baseball, I'll operate my Springfield, Mo., farm for a living before I return to Pasquel's Mexican league," he said.

In Brooklyn, Branch Rickey, president of the Dodgers, said "I'll help that boy all I can."

In Mexico City, Gerardo Pasquel, one of the five brothers who dominate Mexican baseball, said Owen had broken a five-year contract. He said Owen had not said anything in advance about leaving. His secretary hinted at legal action. Jorge Pasquel, president of the league, is out of Mexico City and could not be reached for comment.

The colorful catcher said he was "highly dissatisfied" with the Mexican league. He said he could explain why he left Mexico but if he did, "it would get a lot of good guys still playing down there in trouble."

"As far as I have been able to learn, I was never put on a suspended list in the United States," he said.

He said he did not think he had broken his Mexican league contract.

"I signed as playing manager of the Torreon club," he explained. "When I arrived in Mexico, I was put on the Vera Cruz Blues."

He said that he had been "fired" as manager of the Torreon club and he considered that cancelled his contract.

(Although Owen said he did not believe he was among the players suspended for jumping to the Mexican league, his name topped the list of suspended players in Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler's Bulletin No. 7 on May 9.)

NO JUMP FOR MAX

St. Petersburg, Fla., Aug. 6 (AP)—Max Lanier, the erstwhile southpaw pitcher ace of the St. Louis Cardinals, says he has no intention of following the example of Mickey Owen and jumping the Mexican league.

In St. Petersburg for treatment of an ailing elbow on his pitching arm, Lanier said "They have treated me just as well, even a little better than they promised."

He expressed surprise on being informed that Owen had returned to the United States and would apply for reinstatement in organized baseball so that he could rejoin the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"The club was going good and had won four in a row when I left," Lanier said. "Why, Owen batted about .700 himself in those games."

Marinette Plans Softball Tourney

Marinette—The first annual softball tournament to be sponsored by the recreation department will be held on successive weekends, starting Friday, September 6, with championship game to be played on Sunday, September 15. The tournament is open to all amateur softball teams in this area. Deadline for entering the tournament has been set for 5:00 p. m., Tuesday, September 3. Official entry blanks will be mailed shortly. Joe T. Leszczynski, city recreation director, stated.

The tournament will be a "Gold Medal" affair with over 100 awards to be presented to individual players. Championship team will also receive a suitable award.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The reference in this column yesterday to one of the district softball games scheduled at a Gladstone diamond Thursday night proved to be false and all tournament games will be played on Escanaba diamonds. The error was discovered at the softball association meeting Monday evening when final plans for the tournament were worked out. The tournament opens tonight and will continue through Sunday night with 45 games to be played in all. The four Escanaba diamonds to be used are the lighted field, No. 1 diamond near the conservation headquarters, No. 4 diamond at Royce Park and Ludington Park diamond.

Some softball fans, particularly those who are newcomers to the city, have noticed references to No. 1 and No. 4 diamonds regularly in the weekly publication of local league schedules and are puzzled why there is never any reference to No. 2 and No. 3 diamonds. The No. 2 diamond was abandoned this year for league play because of the construction of a building along the left field foul line. It is located near the No. 1 diamond along the east side of US-2. No. 3 diamond also has been abandoned and the property sold to C. G. Bridges. It was located on Highway M-35 on No. 23rd street and the scene of several U. P. tournaments.

The "take" at the American league all-star softball game last Saturday night which was billed as a benefit game for junior softball was slightly in excess of $40, but the Escanaba softball association upped the ante to $100 in an appropriation made Monday night, which represents about $75 increase as game expenses were $18. The money is used to buy equipment required for the Cadet and Midget leagues which are operated by the city recreation department. Incidentally, the benefit game scheduled for Thursday of this week for Weber, who was injured recently, has been postponed to the following Thursday because of the revision of the district tournament schedule.

The third and final allotment of tickets to Delta county fans for the all-star football game at Negaunee has been received here, but the allotment did not include any $2 tickets for the event. These tickets are all sold out, according to Director Oscar Wassberg. However, there are approximately 30 tickets still available between the 30 and 35 yard lines. If not sold by the end of this week, they will be returned to Negaunee for general sale. The game is expected to attract at least 3,000 fans, the capacity of the Negaunee stadium.

Hit and Miss—Local softball teams playing out of town games are extremely lax in reporting results of such games. No reports here yet on Loans game at Menominee and Paper Mill game at Negaunee played Sunday night. These are not isolated instances, either. Jack Beck, Bears' right hander, will pitch some games for the Escanaba Cubs during the remainder of the season. The Bears have completed their NWM schedule, but the Cubs will play on until Sept. 1. Bears also are planning some non-league games to finish out the season.

PASSEAU GIVES ONLY FOUR HITS

Pair Of Runs In Hectic Third Sews Up Game For Chicago

Cincinnati, Aug. 6 (AP)—With Claude Passeau pitching four-hit ball, the Chicago Cubs scored a pair of runs in a hectic third inning tonight and then went on to shut out the Cincinnati Reds 3-0 before 27,396 paying fans.

The Cubs banged out five straight hits in the third frame but were able to count but two markers.

Peanuts Lowery, playing third in place of injured Stanley Hack, was knocked unconscious during the rally and was hospitalized.

After Mickey Livingston doubled to open the third, Len Merullo singled, Al Libke's throw caught Livingston at the plate and Merullo was out trying for second. Passeau and Lowery singled and advanced on Ewell Blackwell's wild pitch before Don Johnson rapped a safety to center. Passeau scored but Lonnie Frey's throw struck Lowery in the head as he slid into the plate.

Chicago scored again in the fourth when Phil Cavarretta bunted safely, moved to third on a sacrifice and fly out, and then came home as Livingston again hit safely.

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—Four runs in the seventh inning gave the New York Giants a 5-2 edge over Brooklyn tonight, clipping the Dodgers' lead over the idle St. Louis Cardinals to an even two games.

Dave Koslo, who had been rapped for five hits in the first three innings, pitched hitless ball in the last six frames as the Giants rallied to win before a crowd of 51,403.

Hal Gregg was coasting along with a 2-0 shutout, engineering on singles by Ed Stanky and Pee Wee Reese followed by Joe Medwick's scoring fly and Dixie Walker's single in the third. Buddy Blattner scored the first Giant run in the sixth when he singled and moved around on Mickey Witke's single, Willard Marshall's sacrifice and Babe Young's infield out.

Moose Lodge Takes V.F.W.'s, 6-5 Score

Munising—The Moose Lodge Junior baseball team defeated the V. F. W.'s Monday night 6-5 to earn the right to meet the Atkinson Fords for the City championship Wednesday.

The Moose jumped on Burke for three hits and two walks to score three runs in the first inning then added another run in the second on two hits and an error. In the fifth inning they scored two runs without getting a hit. Leiphart was safe on Boucher's error. Sowa went out, with a throw from Reed to Boucher and Leiphart taking second. Brud fled out to Steinhoff in the right field. Brud then threw wild pitches allowing Leiphart to score, and finally walked Mark Boyak. Boyak stole second base. Boyak hit to Reed who threw wild to first allowing Boyak to score. Reed threw out Lincio Sharkey to end the inning.

Fine fielding saved Brud, Moose pitcher in the early innings. Brud walked Boyak and Reed on an attempted double steal. Doucette threw out Boyak at third and Sowa threw the ball to M. Boyak and trapped Reed off second. Sowa finally tagged him for a double play. Kouri then fled to Sharkey. Again in the second inning, Burke walked and was thrown out at second, Doucette to Daniels. Boucher popped to M. Boyak at short. Pangborn singled to center. LeVeque singled to left and Steinhoff struck out. In the third inning, the
